Dhariana Balbuena from the Dominican Republic and Esteban Murillo from Costa Rica were married in 2011. Since then, the Lord has been leading them to serve in many different ways in local church, district and country. It has been a long process for them but now with peace, they say yes to the Lord's calling to dedicate their lives to serve as global missionaries with the Church of the Nazarene.

Biography

Esteban is a Computer Engineer and worked as such for 15 years. Dhariana is a publicist who used to be a single missionary, before marrying Esteban, and then dedicated her life to be a teacher. They served as youth pastors for their local church and district for 5 years and coordinated NCM for the country of Costa Rica for 3 years. This is a family of three, Etienne is their little boy, who just turned 3 years old. He has been involved in ministry since he was born, or before. Such a great blessing, he loves music, drawing, being around people, and going to church. Today as a family, they have the opportunity to serve as missionaries. Esteban is coordinating Communications and Dhariana is coordinating Nazarene Compassionate Ministries, both for the Mesoamerica Region.

Ministry

Communications: The Church of the Nazarene is going where the church is not yet, to reach people around the world with the message of hope and holiness. Our communications ministry connects passionate people with the missions work of the church to help tell the story of missions and enables more people to join the movement. Together we can see people communities and nations transformed. Nazarene Compassionate Ministries is all about equipping churches to be a response is also about Child Development and equipping people to live compassion as a lifestyle.
