

I met so many people yesterday who had a very sad look of resignation on their faces about Christmas. Some were homeless, some had known better days with a wife and family now far removed from them, and some had no family left at all. One man told me with sadness in his voice that his kids were grown and Christmas is just another day.

It reminded me of the year my parents weren't home for Christmas for the very first time in my life. I was an adult and married but the pain I felt was deep. My parents were growing old and I wondered if I had spent my last Christmas with them the year before. As I sat there in front of the Christmas tree alone that Christmas Eve, with a sense of overwhelming sadness, I heard the Holy Spirit speaking to me in my heart, and He told me that he had a very special gift he wanted to give me. My focus turned to the one whose birth had impacted the entire course of history and I began to offer words of thanksgiving and praise for His greatness and for all He had done in my life. Suddenly the atmosphere changed and the presence of the living Christ filled the room and filled my heart with joy. I realized at that moment that though there will always be a sadness this time of year from memories of family now gone, that there could always be a Christmas if my focus remained on the Christ of Christmas and no one could ever take that away. What an amazing gift!

I so long to share the reality of this Prince of Peace with those who have no peace this Christmas time, and when they hear the words of "Joy to the World the Lord IS Come" they will understand what that means.. the Son of God becoming flesh so that we might have our sins forgiven, and be reconciled to the Father, and be able to see life through his eyes as he empowers us to make the right choices; and to experience that unspeakable joy that nothing in this world has to offer. So as you celebrate Christmas this week with family, friends or by yourself, remember Who it is you're celebrating and may your ultimate joy come from knowing the Christ of Christmas.

Call To Worship

At sundry times and in diverse manners God spoke in time past unto the fathers by the prophets,

But he has in these last days spoken unto us by his Son, whom he has appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds;

Rejoice in the Lord, O you righteous, and give thanks to his holy name; for to us has come a saviour, Christ the new born king..

A light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of .Israel.

Let your praise of God sound to the heavens!

We shout the good news of God's mighty love!

Let all the stars, the sun, the moon sing praise to God!

All that God created sings His praise!

Praise the Lord!

Hallelujah! AMEN.

God, who makest us glad with the yearly remembrance of the birth of thy only Son Jesus Christ, grant that as we joyfully receive him for our redeemer, so we may with sure confidence behold him when he shall come to be our judge, who liveth and reigneth with thee and the Holy Ghost, now and ever. Amen.—BCP
